WEATHER FORECAST.

TO METROPOLIS RED MEN WILL GO

Interstate Association to be Formed

Fourth of July Will See Lodges Organized for Annual Meetings Together.

OTEGO TRIBE REPRESENTED.

Permanent organization of the Interstate Association of Red Men will be effected in Metropolis July Fourth, and Paducah will be represented by 100 or 150 members and their friends. This association, organized temporarily in April, is composed of tribes of Red Men west of the Louisville & Nashville railroad in Kentucky; south of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad in Illinois, and that part of Missouri that adjoins the territory in Kentucky and Illinois. One hundred tribes will be included in the organization, and official representation will be based on membership. Otego tribe of Paducah will be entitled to five delegates.

The steamer George Cowling will carry the Paducah delegation to Metropolis. Railroad schedules in Metropolis make that town accessible from the north and the rivers and railroads will handle the crowds from west Kentucky and Missouri. July Fourth being a day highly esteemed in the lodge, an attendance of several thousand is expected from the 100 tribes. Each year the annual convention of the association will be held on that date and from the part Paducah has played in organizing the association, it is likely that the next convention will be held here.

Arriving at Metropolis, the program for the day will be given on the court house lawn. It will include a parade of the tribes in the morning, speaking and effecting the organization with the election of officers and adoption of the constitution. One of the officers will be sought for Paducah. Metropolis is preparing for a big day and the purely business features will be relieved by a picnic dinner and amusements.

In the regular meeting of Otego tribe tonight, the final preparations for the association meeting in Metropolis, will be made. The five delegates will be selected and committees will be appointed to handle the details.

YOUTH'S BRAVERY PREVENTS DAMAGE

Driver of Weille's Delivery Wagon Guides Runaway Horse Down Crowded Broadway This Morning

IS FINALLY THROWN OUT.

In a display of rare nerve John Flinley, a 16-year-old boy, stuck in Weille's delivery wagon from Seventh street to Second street on Broadway, at 10:45 o'clock, this morning, guiding a maddened horse past vehicles, street cars and around a brass band playing at Fourth street and Broadway, and saving the wagon from being smashed up and the horse injured, and many pedestrians and vehicles from being run down.

The horse had never been hitched to a delivery wagon before, and the rattling frightened it and at Seventh street and Broadway it began kicking, and after breaking parts of the harness began to run. Straight down Broadway it went, the wagon bouncing and swaying from one side of the street to the other. At Fourth street, and Broadway a band was playing, and around it were street cars, automobiles, buggies and pedestrians. At Second street and Broadway the horse turned the wagon around and cleared itself of the shafts, running to the river's edge. It was caught and quieted. The wagon was not damaged, and young Flinley was the center of an admiring crowd as the frantic horse was being hitched to the wagon again.

NO RAIN FOR PADUCAH; BUT OTHERS GOT WET.

Rain played all around Paducah last evening, but left a dry spot here. Mayfield had a drenching, Fulton and Cairo got soaked, and Joppat, Ill., had a rush of water that did considerable damage to crops and ruined telephone connections; but Paducah, Metropolis and Brookport only saw the clouds.

LATER—We got ours at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

May Not Recover.

Mr. Mack Killeen, 1124 North Teath street, who has been ill for the past three weeks, is worse today and the doctors do not expect him to recover.

NO INSTRUCTIONS WANTED FOR TAFT

Letter From Washington Read to This Effect

First District Delegation Carried Everything at Republican State Convention.

CAPTAIN FARLEY'S OVATION.

McCracken county's delegation returned last night and today from the Republican state convention at Louisville, satisfied with a duty well performed and gratified with the knowledge that they had their own way in the convention.

Every candidate the First congressional district delegation supported won out, and Capt. Edwin Farley and Judge James Breathitt, for whom particular instructions were given at the county conventions, headed the prizes.

"The nomination of Captain Farley partook of the nature of an ovation," said a returning delegate. "District after district seconded his nomination. Two or three candidates' names were sprung on the convention, but no other man received any consideration and before the Eleventh district was reached the convention hall was in an uproar of enthusiasm."

That face is enough for me," shouted one delegate, who had been struggling to get a glimpse of the captain. "He's an honest man if I ever saw one."

Captain Farley got as many votes as the candidate for governor."

Judge Breathitt was left clear off the slate and Louisville papers failed to pick him in their forecasts even up to the hour the vote was taken. It was through the activity of Postmaster F. M. Fisher, who stood sponsor for Judge Breathitt, that his candidacy that he was persuaded to remain in the race. When the votes were counted Judge Breathitt had over 1,000 and had run away with the big end of the Louisville vote, besides his own, the First and Eleventh congressional districts. He made a speech that electrified the convention.

All the real politics played in the convention was on the part of the First district delegation.

No Anti-Taft Plank.

One of the interesting bits of gossip in connection with the convention was the assertion that a big fight was on between Taft and Fairbanks and that Taft was beaten, by failing to get the endorsement of the convention. Postmaster Fisher was a member of the committee on resolutions, and he is outspoken in his denial of this construction to no place on the action of the convention.

"It was neither a Taft nor a Fairbanks convention," he said emphatically. "The plank originally intended for the platform concerning national affairs was inserted, and it wasn't because Fairbanks opposed a Taft endorsement, either. As far as the sentiment of the committee was concerned, Fairbanks could muster three votes out of the thirteen members of the committee on resolutions. The effort to get Taft endorsed was made by Louisville newspapers and not by any Republicans. We had before us letters from Washington, saying that the president did not expect anybody to be endorsed."

"This convention was not for the purpose of electing delegates to a national convention, and there is no national election before the people. There was no reason why the Republicans of Kentucky at this time should formally affirm their support of any candidate not before the people this year."

"But I will say, that we did put out some candidates that will make the greatest political race ever made in Kentucky, and nothing short of providential interference will prevent their election. When I speak of providential interference I refer to a catastrophe. It was a great convention; enthusiast, evidently imbued with the highest purpose and determined to take advantage of this great opportunity."

PARIS HEARS ALARMING NEWS.

Boise, June 21.—At the opening of the Haywood trial Judge Wood announced his decision on the admissibility of articles in the Miners' Magazine as evidence. He said the court was thoroughly satisfied as to the admissibility of the articles appearing in the magazine showing the animus of the Western Federation of Miners during the period of the commission of the series of crimes confessed by Orchard and alleged.

Senator Born read from the issue of the magazine of February, 1900, an editorial entitled "Another Outrage," and dealing with the alleged circumscription of a petition by Governor Steubenberg for a continuance of the federal troops in the mining districts of Idaho. The editorial declared that Steubenberg was being well paid for persecuting the miners' union, denounced him as a hessian and an "unscrupulous person" never known to speak the truth."

Attorney Borah, for the state, today announced he was ready to close. The defense stated they were ready to proceed. Richardson made a motion that Haywood be discharged, alleging the state has not made out a case against him. Both sides probably will argue this point the better part of the afternoon. The motion probably will be decided.

Littleton, Colo.

Mr. Littleton Goad, 48 years old, a stock raiser of Bloomfield, Ind., died yesterday of pneumonia at Calvert City, where he was visiting relatives. The body was taken home last night, after being embalmed by Guy Nance.

Paris, June 21. Mutiny is sweeping over the entire army of southern France, according to reports lately received by the minister of war to-day, following the desertion of a regiment this morning. Half of Eighty-first regiment sent against the miners mutinied. Later reports say the Hundredth regiment mutinied marching toward Larzac. Unconfirmed reports say other regiments are on their way to take the part of the rioters.

Three Hundred Mutiny.

Three hundred soldiers are detained for duty in the wine-growers strike at Riots at Arde, mutinied to day, according to an official announcement, given out by the government. The men protested against doing police duty against their countrymen. The protest being unheeded, they left their barracks in a body, carrying their arms and several hundred rounds of ammunition and made their way to Beziers, where they are now encamped in a public squadron.

Mr. Bryan in all probability will be the candidate of the Democratic party in 1908. It looks like a landslide. His running mate could well be a southern man."

SEVENTEEN TEACHERS ARE BEING EXAMINED

Mr. Tobias Murray.

News of the death of Mr. Tobias Murray at Fort Worth, Tex., reached Paducah yesterday in a telegram to his brother, Mr. Kenney Murray. Death was sudden and came as a shock to his many friends here. Toho Murray was 32 years old, born and reared in Paducah, being a son of the late Capt. Edward Murray, a prominent ship builder. He had been away from Paducah several years, and was foreman of the Fort Worth ice company a position he had held five years.

The telegram stated that he died of congestion of the brain after an illness of only a few hours. He leaves two brothers, Messrs. Tom Murray, of Memphis, and Kenney Murray, of Paducah.

The body will arrive in Paducah Saturday evening at 7:45 o'clock and will be taken to the residence of Mr. Kenney Murray on Broad street. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon from the residence, burial in Oak Grove cemetery.

FALL FRACTURES

MRS. MORRIS' ARM

While trying to enter her back window of her residence, Mrs. Edward Morris, wife of the well known school trustee, of Farley street, fell and broke her right arm last night. Mrs. Morris had attended the Chautauqua and arrived home about 11 o'clock. Finding that she had lost her key, she decided to play burglar and enter a rear window. In climbing in she lost her hold and fell. The fracture is a serious one, and was dressed by Dr. J. S. Troutman.

"It aren't that he tried to meet me proply," explained Hancock magnanimously, "but do inconsicous of his taking me to such a place an' pushin' me in de ocean is what ah calaf abide."

The Rev. William Grother, of St. Louis, has accepted a call from the German Lutheran church and will take charge some time in August. The church officials have been in communication with the Rev. Mr. Grother for some time, and received his acceptance today. He is a graduate, this year, of the Concordia Seminary of St. Louis, and is a talented gentleman.

MEN ADMIRE

A pretty face, a good figure, but the sooner or later learn that the healthy, happy, contented woman is most of all to be admired.

INCURABLE

DISEASE WITH WHICH SCHMITZ IS SUFFERING.

Attorneys Declare He Is in Serious Condition and Tell of Conspiracy.

San Francisco, June 21.—Mayor Schmitz's attorneys this evening appealed to the district court of appeals for the release of the mayor on bail by a writ of habeas corpus. It is declared by his attorneys that the mayor is suffering from an incurable disease and that imprisonment in jail will cause his death. It is understood that the disease referred to is an affection of the kidneys and that it has advanced to a serious stage.

The petition alleges that the law under which the mayor was ordered into custody is unconstitutional and that imprisonment of the mayor is furtherance of a conspiracy by Rudolph Spreckels and others through coercive powers to usurp the office of mayor and secure political control of San Francisco.

EXPOSES RANK CAPITOL FRAUD.

Expert Tells Commission Safes Are Not Burglar Proof.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 21.—Chas. D. Montague, a metallic furniture expert of New York, testified before the capitol investigation commission today that the state had not only been grossly overcharged for the metallic furniture supplied by the Pennsylvania Construction company, but that he had gored into the "burglar proof vault" in the state treasury in four hours with an ordinary eight inch breast drill.

Mr. Montague said also that the four safes in the capitol for which this concern was paid $22,000 by the state were worth only $27,000, and that there was no chrome steel or steel rails in the vault, only ordinary steel, which any one could bore into with ease.

As to the first floor metallic furniture, the expert said it cost $22,231.10 and was worth only $132,193.53. On the entresol floor the cases were bid at $151,688.40 and worth $54,470.65. Mr. Montague said Architect Huston "designed" metallic furniture for rooms which do not contain any at all and that the plans for which Huston collected a commission of $80,000 from the state as his own were prepared by a company which supplied metallic furniture to the Pennsylvania company. The expert said that the bronze on the first floor was worth $26,000. The state paid $56,000.

WHISKY DESTROYED
ON FULTON STREET.

Fulton, Ky., June 21.—Last evening in front of the city hall County Attorney T. N. Smith, Deputy Sheriff Leander Robertson, Esquire R. A. Browder and Mayor U. S. Shackson proceeded to break thirty-six pint bottles filled with whisky which was confiscated when Deputy Sheriff Robertson arrested Porter Wright, an alleged bootlegger. Wright had just returned to Fulton from Cairo, where he had purchased the whisky. This being the first time that whisky was publicly destroyed in the city, several hundred people witnessed the procedure and cheered the officers as they proceeded with the work of destruction.

Bolt Hits Sleeper; He Lives.

Glocester, Mass., June 21.—At the height of a thunderstorm early today a bolt tore through the house of D. W. Wiley, striking the bed where J. Frank Clancy, a boarder, was sleeping. The electric fluid passed through his body, rendering him unconscious and knocking out his teeth. Hours later Clancy regained consciousness, and, apart from the loss of his teeth, is all right.

One day the office boy went to the editor of the Soaring Eagle and said: "There's a tramp at the door and he says he has had nothing to eat for six days." "Fetch him in," said the editor. "If we can find out how he does it we can run this paper for another week!"

Platform of the Republican Party

The platform of the Republican party, adopted in convention at Louisville, as follows:

We approve the policies and commend the ability, integrity and courage of President Roosevelt and his administration, and without expressing a preference for any candidate, favor the selection by the next national convention for president of one in full accord with those policies, and who will energetically carry them into the interests of all the people.

Second—We demand that all elections shall be honestly conducted, and declare that the cause of good government and the future happiness and welfare of the people of Kentucky are inseparably bound up in the suppression of all abuses and crimes against an honest ballot, that have so unfortunately disgraced our state under Democratic rule, depriving the people of their rightful heritage—representative government.

The law for registration certificates, imposed on the state by the Democratic party for immoral purposes, whereby votes in Kentucky have become negotiable instruments, passing by delivery, ought to be repealed.

Third—The judiciary of the state in both the circuit and appellate courts, should be chosen on non-partisan grounds, and the continuance in office of faithful judicial public servants should be determined by no other qualifications than fitness.

Fourth—There should be complete publicity concerning the expenditure of money for political campaigns, and a law should be passed providing for an accounting by candidates and campaign managers of all sums of money collected for political purposes.

Fifth—We demand the redistricting of Kentucky in legislative, senatorial, congressional and judicial districts, which shall give equal representation and equal voting power to every citizen of every district, in conformity with the plain requirements of the constitution, and not as at present, in flagrant violation thereof.

Sixth—There should be prompt and efficient enforcement of the criminal laws of every kind, and at all times, but especially at this time do we call for the rigid enforcement of the law against those forms of crimes, which, under the recent administration of justice, in many communities, have gone practically unpunished. Election thieves, gamblers, pool room operators and others, to commit crimes in the interest of those controlling the local administration of some of our cities and counties, should be punished, and the Juries should be so selected as to

CREW MISS CARROLL'S HAIR

AND WE CAN

PROVE IT

Beautiful Hair At Small Cost.

WITHIN the last decade great and rapid strides have been made in Materia Medica. Many diseases that were considered incurable fifteen years ago are now cured in a few days, and in many cases prevented altogether. The scientists of late years have been delving for the cause, the foundation, the reason and the starting point of disease, fully realizing that the actual and true cause must be ascertained before the remedy can be located. Hair troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp, and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention if results are to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing a supply of moisture or nutrient, and when baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all of its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions).

The natural and logical thing to do in either case is, feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is identical with the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp. It feeds and nourishes the hair and does all the work originally carried on by the natural nutrients or life-giving juices generated by the scalp itself. It penetrates the pores of the scalp quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities.

One twenty-five-cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself. Now on sale at every drug and toilet store in the land. Three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00.

FREE To show how quickly Danderine acts we will send a large sample free by return mail to any one who sends this advertisement to the Knowlton Danderine Co., Chicago, with their name and address and 10 cents in silver or stamps to pay postage.

RAILROAD NOTES

Mr. S. A. Willett, the well known Illinois Central engine foreman, has gone to St. Louis on a week's visit to relatives.

Mr. E. T. Lucas, a brother of Attorney Frank Lucas, is visiting in the city. He is connected with the Memphis Illinois Central ticket office, and was formerly in the railroad service here.

Superintendent A. H. Flatt and Roadmaster A. F. Blaess, of the Louisville division of the Illinois Central, are in the city making an inspection.

The Illinois Central shops are clean today, the windows having been scoured and brightened, and the floor swept clean. High officials are coming, and local officials desire to have the shops present the best appearance possible. Mr. J. G. Heuffer, assistant superintendent of machinery, and other officials of the mechanical department are on a general inspection of the mechanical department, and will spend several hours here when they arrive.

Mr. James McLaughlin, Jr., of the Illinois Central machine shops, is suffering from a crushed left hand, which he injured in machinery yesterday.

Snakes at Shops.
Water moccasin snakes have once again made their appearance in the planing mill of the Illinois Central shops. Yesterday afternoon Mr. John Street killed a big specimen in the caboose department, nearly stepping on it before he discovered his danger.

Wins Medal by Blazing Ship.
Washington, D. C., June 21.—A bronze "West Indian" medal was today awarded by the navy department to Rear Admiral Benjamin H. McCalla, U. S. N., retired, now living in Santa Barbara, Cal., for especially meritorious conduct other than in battle. The medal was bestowed for "rescuing crews from and in close proximity to burning ships after the battle of Santiago, July 3, 1898." McCalla, then commander of the Marblehead, took his ship close up to the burning ships of Cervera's fleet and saved the Spanish sailors at the risk of the destruction of his own ship from the exploding magazines of the Spanish cruisers.

Party of Progress, Says Willson, Can't Talk Against Railroad Train

At the state Republican convention

Hon. A. E. Willson said:

"Mr. Chairman and Ladies and Gentlemen and Delegates of the Republican Party of Kentucky in convention assembled: I cannot express to you the feeling of deep gratitude that has come to me at this expression of your confidence and kindness. It is to me, the voice of the people calling to a sacred duty. It is received by me as a sacred duty to my country, to Kentucky and to all the people. I shall do what I can to repay the trust that you have reposed in me. My heart is so full that my head is not clear. You know how it is yourself. Every good Republican can put himself in my place and feel just as I feel, and feel just as helpless to tell the rest of us about it. Every one would have the same trouble. But while it has swelled my heart, I say reverently it has not swelled by the law."

A Great Responsibility.

"No man can face a sacred duty like this with any feeling but that of serious responsibility. Here is a great people as warm hearted, as independent, as courageous, as splendid a people as there is on the face of the earth, and this people has had its public affairs come into a condition that discourages the people and hurts the glorious name of our great state, and we have come together to begin here tonight the work which shall make a change in Kentucky and shall once more put Kentucky at the very head. (A train went by.)

"I am not going to try to speak against that train. That train is only one of the myriads of trains that are going like shuttles to and fro through the great web of business under the prosperity brought upon the greatest party on earth; there are thousands of these trains, and you can't talk against them. The Republican ticket is for those trains and more of them."

"We begin tonight a campaign that is not intended—the engine here created more noise—I take it that engineer has heard the news. (Applause.)

"I started to say that our mission is not to increase the bitterness and rancor of party differences. It is to start a feeling through all Kentucky of kindness and to accentuate the fact that we are all brothers, and the great majority of our people in both parties believe in a square deal and believe in honest management of the public interests, are patriotic, love their country, love their state; but every once in a while it comes to pass that the management of the controlling party in any state becomes unsatisfactory to the people. It becomes selfish and grasping. Sometimes it becomes corrupt and disappoints the people. We have been through that in Kentucky until at last you have lost free and equal elections for Republicans, but the Democrats, the honest Democrats, have come to the point that they have lost their liberties just as readily as the opposing party.

A Mission of Freedom.

"My brothers, we have come together not merely in the interest of the Republicans, but we come to free all the people, Democrats and Republicans alike. (Applause.) I sometimes feel that while I am moving forward surrounded by the affection and friendship and cheer of Republicans that I am in a better sense perhaps a missionary to the Democrats who are oppressed by the law.

Business as usual was good with the Kentucky on arrival last night from the Tennessee river. The Kentucky will leave Saturday evening for the Tennessee river.

The Savannah will probably arrive Saturday from the Tennessee river bound for St. Louis.

The Mississippi will be here, or not at the ways probably by next Wednesday.

The Fannie Wallace was let off the dry docks today and a barge of the West Kentucky Coal company was lifted out for repairs.

Hovering around a high stage for this time of year, the river rose 2 since yesterday, bringing the stage up to 28.3. The stage on June 21 last year was 10.2. Business is satisfactory at the river. The storms seem to give Paducah the go-by.

The Joe Fowler was a little late arriving from Evansville today and left this afternoon with a good end-week trip.

Business as usual was good with the Ohio at Evansville and Mt.

Vernon will commence falling tonight and continue falling several days. At Paducah, will rise slowly during the next 24 to 36 hours. At Cairo, will continue falling slowly during the next 24 hours.

The Teesee at Florence and Riverton, will fall during the next 36 hours. At Johnsonville, will continue rising during the next 12 to 24 hours then fall.

The Mississippi from Chester to Cairo, and the Wabash at Mt. Carmel will continue falling during the next 24 to 36 hours.

The Georgia Lee arrived last night at 8 o'clock from Memphis and took on good business in both departments, leaving an hour or so later for Cincinnati.

The Peters Lee will arrive Saturday afternoon from Cincinnati going down to Memphis.

The Martha Lennen is in from the Ohio river and left today for the Tennessee river after ties.

The Lydia left today for the Cumberland river after a trip of ties.

The Henrietta will leave today for the Tennessee river after ties.

All night and most of the day is being put in by the Dick Fowler in the Cairo trade. The Dick Fowler leaves Cairo at 11 o'clock at night arriving here at 4 o'clock in the morning and leaving for Cairo again at 6 o'clock.

The Cumberland will be finished is asked:

"Is George Pickett about?"

To hear her husband's name here of its title by Yankee at that moment was almost the limit, especially as many a rumor had floated about

Richmond concerning the fate which awaited the leaders of the confederacy.

With all the proud dignity she could command the baby bride replied:

"Gen. Pickett is not at home."

The stranger seemed disappointed and, as he turned to go, remarked:

"I am Abraham Lincoln, an old friend of George's."

"Not President Lincoln!" Mrs.

Pickett exclaimed. The tall man shook his head, repeating:

"No, just Abraham Lincoln, George

Pickett's old friend."

Following the instant promptings of the heart, which still governs her,

"the baby bride" thrust her baby into the arms of the gaunt Yankee, as her best effort to express her veneration for her husband.

A Sad Case.

He anxiously noted an unseemly reserve in his wife's manner.

"Why do you look so sad, my

WE ARE ALL CITIZENS.

Of course, Mayor Schmitz, of San Francisco, was a union labor man; but that is not what made him steal. The vital principles of unionism are unsullied by the action of this contemptible scoundrel. The unions in San Francisco only are injured in so far as they stood sponsor for his candidacy. They have burned their fingers playing with fire. The laboring men more than any other class of American citizens have been injured through the manipulation of legislative and executive officials by diverse interests. They should have learned from this the lesson that straightforward, honest execution of the laws, enacted for the benefit of the whole people and not for classes, is best for the laboring man, the professional man, the merchant and the farmer. There are relations in life which separate the mechanic from the farmer, and the lawyer from both of them; but these relations do not pertain to the interests of all as citizens of this country. There can be no difference there. We cannot understand why the carpenters' or the telegraphers' union should require a kind of major different from that required by a Methodist preacher, a homeopathic doctor or a furniture dealer.

Maybe some of those reckless auto drivers believe that a man whose horses are frightened can't shoot straight.

And none of the newspapers heard of it until Cleveland was well again.

There is something less than ornate cuniling in Ambassador Aoki's accepting President Roosevelt's silence on the subject of indemnity for assaults on the Japs in San Francisco for assent.

We observe it was quite within the range of possibility to assemble the general council in special session to take the city hospital out of the hands of the doctors, but it is too late to pass the anti-toy pistol law in time to prevent a profit to dealers in these children killers. If any youths should die of tetanus from the effects of toy pistol wounds incurred July Fourth, we should not like to assume the responsibility of some members of the general council.

The Persian revolt is crushed. Guatemala and Mexico are resting on their arms on the frontier; Japan has administered a good whipping to the Formosans; French troops have the upper hand in the wine growing section, and the Douma has been smothered. The world powers at The Hague assembled remind us of the picture of a lot of women talking over their back fences, while they try to keep the children still with one free hand so they can hear all the conversation.

Because the cost of living has gone up, cab drivers wish to make it more expensive to die.

What does the advance of one cent on a spool of thread amount to? There are 85,000,000 people in the United States. Reckoning five to a family, there are 17,000,000 families. Every time every family uses a spool of thread the Thread trust is enriched $170,000. If every family should use one spool a week, in a year the trust would profit $8,840,000 by the advance. The trusts understand the principle of taking care of the pennies.

The telegraph operators get what they demanded and will not strike. We are delighted, and will, of course, pay our share of the advance.

We are for street cars to Mechanicsburg, Jefferson boulevard, the extension of the city limits to the natural boundary to the westward, more sewers and cleaner alleys. We are opposed to the sale of toy pistols and loaded canes, for the same reason that we favored roller skating on the sidewalks—because we love the children.

To Wallace park and Tyler, too.

If the conservative general council will take in all Paducah's contributory population, so that we can get them counted in 1910 and make them pay for some of the benefits we afford them, we may get the anti-toy pistol ordinance tacked on as a rider.

Of course, you will vote for the man who buys his groceries, his drugs, his dry goods of you. The fact that he patronizes you is proof of his good judgment and capacity. For the same reason you take most interest in the candidate for the office through which such material as you have to sell is purchased. It is not a far stretch of the imagination to comprehend from this point the attitude of men in large businesses.

We need election reforms in this country. It should start with the electors. They should start it themselves.

THE SCHOOL PLANK.

We quote from the Republican state platform:

"We demand that the public schools of the state be taken and kept entirely out of politics, and that the interests and welfare of the children shall have first consideration in all public school matters. We call for better schools and school houses, for longer terms in the country and better pay for the teachers, and that ELECTIONS FOR SCHOOL TRUSTEES BE HAD ON DIFFERENT DAYS FROM OTHER ELECTIONS."

We could go further in reform; but we endorse every word of this. It indicates that, at least one great political party recognizes evils in our school system and that this platform was not a preconceived document, intended to bridge over thin political ice; but a body of principles studiously prepared to meet actual existing conditions. This is a mighty good plank for Prof. J. G. Crabbe to stand on in his contest for superintendent of public instruction. It is, what The Sun is contending for in Paducah.

Loeb laughs at the idea of war with Japan, President Roosevelt has gone to Oyster Bay for the summer and the whole administration gives voice to assure us that there never was any danger of war. But we hear the sigh that precedes Loeb's smile, we accept the president's apparent unconcern as a hit of theatrical bypass and remember that when we were most importunate the state department had no information to impart. There is no danger of war now, and Loeb is admonished to smile.

The gravest danger to our American institutions is the lowering of our individual standards of honor. How can we differentiate between the essential principles of a man, who will deliberately cheat a railroad company out of a nickel, and a man who will rob a house? How can we fairly accuse a man who hires legislative and public officials, and peopled with a contented citizenship.

That is why we are insisting upon union stores, union clerks, union wages and conditions and union hours of labor. It cost our organization $2,000,000 to get an eight-hour day and the closed shop—but, WE GOT IT!

And in less than two years! And we're still game.

It may take some money and some time to get Paducah to believe as we do, but we have both and besides all this, WE ARE RIGHT.

Get in the band wagon, Mr. Business Man!

Sure enough.

SHE WAS DEAD

BUT HUSBAND DID NOT KNOW IT WHEN HE SHOT.

Strange Tale of Man Who Failed to Carry Out a Suicide Pact.

New York, June 20.—James Wardell told the police a strange story today of the circumstances which led him to shoot and, as he supposed, kill his 19-year-old wife yesterday in his flat in West Twenty-fifth street. Under the pressure of a merciless examination from Coroner Acrietille he told all. His story is as follows:

"I met the girl on the street four years ago, and a year later we were married. She had been leading a pretty gay life, but for a time we lived in happiness together. Then we separated and after a time we separated. I went to Connecticut, got work there and tried to forget her. But it was useless. I stayed away from her for nearly three years, but at last I came back here and hunted through the places where I knew she probably would be, until I found her. I asked her to come back and live with me, I told her I would forget the past, and we should begin all over again.

"She said she was tired of the life she had been leading and wanted to come back to me. She told me she had found a friend in my absence and would be killed if she returned to me. Then she suggested that we both die together. We planned it all out to kill ourselves with gas, but she wanted to make sure that we would both die.

"We fixed it up so that we could turn on the gas. Then if she got unconscious first and it looked like I couldn't stand to die by the gas, I was to shoot her and then shoot myself. If I got unconscious first and she got scared of the gas she was to shoot me and then kill herself.

"We closed everything up and turned on the gas. I fixed a tube in her mouth. We lay down on the bed. She breathed in the gas, and after a while she looked like she was all in.

"I was pretty weak, but I climbed over her and started for the door. I was losing my nerve. I dropped to my knees because I was weak and figured that I would be a coward if I didn't carry out the agreement, so I went back to bed.

"I felt her and she seemed to be cold. I kissed her and her lips were cold. Then I took the gun, which had been on my pillow all the time, and shot her in the head.

"After that I turned the gun on myself and pulled the trigger. The first time it didn't go off. I tried again and it failed. The third time was an awful struggle, and it failed again. I was sure it would shoot the fourth time, but it did not, and then I lost out."

At the time of his confession Wardell did not know that his wife was dead when he fired the bullet into her brain. Just what charge will be based upon his acknowledgement of an intent to kill the coroner has not made known.

Mrs. Wardell, who was strikingly attractive, was found dead on her bed.

We mean what we say, and we are going to win. We say we are going to fight it out along this line if it takes a lifetime of summers.

We want you to get better wages, Mr. Workingman; we want you, Mr. Merchant to sell more goods; we want our city to be prosperous and peopled with a contented citizenship.

That is why we are insisting upon union stores, union clerks, union wages and conditions and union hours of labor. It cost our organization $2,000,000 to get an eight-hour day and the closed shop—but, WE GOT IT!

And in less than two years! And we're still game.

Erratic Missouri River Moves 6,000 Acres to Opposite Shore.

Sioux City, Ia., June 21.—By cutting through Sand Hill lake, in Monroe county, this morning the Missouri river moved 6,000 acres of Iowa land over to the Nebraska shore. Farmers who went out to plant corn reaped a harvest of catfish, as the river swallowed up almost two whole farms. Sand Hill lake formerly was the river bed and has been a fishing resort for fifteen years. It is now destroyed.

PEOPLE AND SOCIAL EVENTS

For Guild Benefit,

For the benefit of the Guild of the Grace Episcopal church a clever little comedy is to be given the first week in July. As for the place of presenting it has not been definitely decided, but a stage may be erected on Colonel L. D. Husbands' court on Jefferson street, or the Casino at Wallace park may be selected. Miss Anna Bird Stewart, of Cincinnati, formerly teacher of English in the High school, who has been visiting in the city for the last several weeks, will play the leading role and will have charge of the rehearsals. The best talent in the city will be selected and the cast will contain about 25 persons. "The Romancers" is the title of the comedy and it is said to be a fine one and especially adapted for the presentation by amateurs. Incidental music will be a feature of the evening. Under Miss Stewart's management the play is certain to be a success and a large audience may be expected to be in attendance.

McKinney-Sexton.

Miss Sarah McKinney, of Cadiz, and Mr. Morris Sexton, of this city, were married in Brookport, Ill., last Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The bride is a popular girl in Cadiz and is a charming young lady. Mr. Sexton is an employee of the Paducah Furniture Manufacturing company, and came here January 1 from Cadiz. Mr. and Mrs. Sexton are making their home in this city.

"Southern Day" at the Tent.

This was "Southern Day" at the Woman's club tent and it proved the most successful yet. A large audience was out today on account of the strong program, and this evening Leon, E. W. Carmack, of Tennessee, will speak, so preparations have been made to serve a large crowd. The tent was prettily decorated with flags and hospitality was extended to all who called at the tent. Tomorrow is the last day and those in charge will be: Mrs. Frank Boyd, chairman; Messdames Hal Walters, Lloyd Boswell, Paul Dusart, Mildred Davis, James P. Smith, Charles Wheeler, E. P. Noble, Saunders Fowler, Louis Rieke, Oscar Gregory, D. H. Hughes, William McPherson, treasurer; E. W. Baker, Mary G. Palmer, James Rudy, L. D. Twenty-three steamers have been wrecked, involving the loss of 902 lives.

There have been thirteen mine accidents in which 555 persons have perished.

These casualties have been due to human negligence or ignorance in a large part, but nature has been destructive also. Tidal waves have swept away 2,210, earthquakes 5,100, hurricanes 530, cyclones thus far, seventy.

The cloud has a silver lining, however. The total of gifts and bequests in all forms of philanthropy in less than six months of 1907 is larger than the total for the twelve months of 1906 being $108,961,589, as compared with $106,281,083. And never have there been five months during the last twenty-five years in which the total of embezzlement and various forms of defalcation has been as small as in the first five months of 1907.—Chicago Tribune.

Baltimore, Md., June 21.—State Senator Arthur P. Gorman ruled the Howard county Democratic convention today, just as his father ruled the state and county party organiza

He was renominated for state senator and his friends say that if the Democrats control the next legislature he will be the recognized leader. Young Gorman not only bears a striking physical resemblance to his father, but also has inherited his political shrewdness.

BURGLARS FRIGHTENED.

AWAY FROM RESIDENCE.

Burglars were frightened away from the residence of Mrs. Manle Cobb, 616 Broadway, last night between 11 and 12 o'clock before they gained entrance to the house. The family had retired and a noise was heard in a rear window. A telephone message to the police station brought Patrolmen Brennan and Shelly to the scene. A thorough search of the premises failed to find the burglars, who evidently made their escape over the back fence through adjoining yards.

The Business of Baseball.

The game as nationally organized is divided into major and minor baseball. This is a distinction which prevails between the players professional and amateurs in their understandings with one another—it is both a professional and commercial division. The two major leagues, the National and the American, are each an association of clubs (or properties, in the financial view) which employ the star players of the country and handle them according to the business methods made necessary by metropolitan demands. On the other hand the multitude of minor leagues, also composed of professional players, provide the best that can be afforded by crowds of the second and third magnitude. There are about thirty-three baseball leagues, and altogether they furnish the regular series of games to 256 cities and towns in the United States and Canada—for Canada has become a part of us in this respect, and crosses our borders regularly to give us pitched battles. A season's pay roll for these players amounts approximately to $4,000,000.—The Courier-Journal.

MISSISSIPPI IS TO BE DISCARDED

Canal From Great Lakes to Gulf of Mexico

Scheme of Capt. Robert E. Orr Disclosed in Washington Is Ambitious.

HE HAS FIGURES FOR IT ALL

Washington, June 21.—Lakes-to-the-Gulf deep waterway enthusiasts are looking forward to the presentation of a new scheme to connect the inland seas with the Gulf of Mexico. Word has reached here that plans are being prepared by Capt. Robert E. Orr, of Illinois, which contemplate practically the abandonment of the Mississippi river south of Cairo and the utilization of a chain of lakes in establishing the proposed new route. It is reported that $50,000,000 appropriation will be sought to put the scheme in operation.

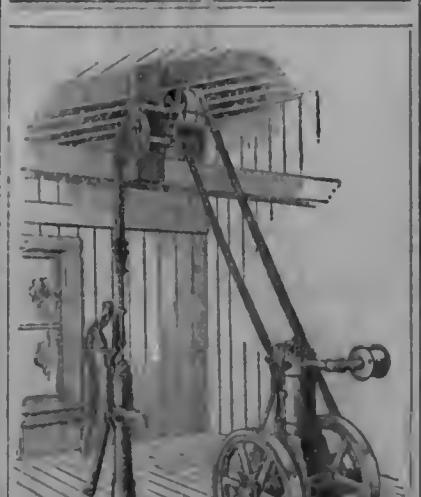

Capt. Orr's figures, according to reports, estimate that the cost would be about the same per mile as railroad construction. He would have the work begin at Lake Borgne and would carry it north to Cairo, dividing the operation into five sections of about one hundred miles each. From the western end of this lake a cut would be made to lakes Pontchartrain and Maurepas. From these lakes the channel would follow a course slightly northwest until Spanish Lake was reached, when it would assume a north trend and parallel the Mississippi river until it got to Cairo, where connections with the Mississippi and Illinois rivers would be made. Once into the river the proposed route would be that already discussed and connect with the lakes through Chicago's sanitary canal.

Capt. Orr expects to enlist the Lakes-to-the-Gulf Deep Waterway association in the matter and will ask that organization to support his plan. This is the logical association to press the fight before the next congress, if one is to be made, for the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, while it is the most representative organization of its kind in the country, is committed to no individual plan of betterment and believes only in the general proposition that the federal government should expend $50,000,000 a year on the work of general waterways improvement. The congress, which counts its members in every state and territory in the union, is endeavoring to increase its membership so as to further its program at the coming session of the national legislature. Capt. J. F. Ellison, of Cincinnati, secretary and treasurer of the organization, is bending all his energies to this end.

To return to Capt. Orr's plan, he estimates that it will require four years to complete each of the sections, or twenty years to finish the entire Mississippi portion. His scheme to take the work a section at a time, completing each link, throwing it open to traffic, Capt. Orr is confident will work great economies. He believes that it would be possible to secure big returns from the gigantic undertaking almost from the beginning of work, and at the same time build up new territory and give shippers transportation accommodations which such a waterway naturally would afford.

Capt. Orr is said to have made a personal survey and close study of the route he has selected. It lies east of the Mississippi and close to the foot hills, where soil, as he explains it, is to be found that will furnish a splendid foundation. He addition it will be possible to use this soil in the construction of banks, and dikes. The proposed canal will be fitted with locks, but how many the reports do not indicate. It is said that Capt. Orr is firmly of the opinion that it is cheaper to lift a vessel than to compel it to force its way against a heavy current.

MRS. KAUFMAN ACCUSED OF MURDERING SERVANT.

Husband, Son and Counsel Shocked
By Verdict of Manslaughter.

Flandreau, S. D., June 21.—Mrs. Emma Kaufman, wife of Moses Kaufman, for years a wealthy Sioux Falls brewer, and who has been on trial for the past ten days charged with the murder of Agnes Polk, her 16-year-old servant, was today found guilty of manslaughter in the first degree. The conviction was a great shock to the defendant, her husband, her son and her counsel, all of whom had confidently expected acquittal. When the fatal words fell from the lips of the foreman of the jury, Mrs. Kaufman's head sank upon her hands. Throughout the proceedings she sat in an attitude of extreme dejection. The counsel for the defense gave notice of a motion for a new trial. This will be argued before Judge Smith at Yankton October 19. Judge Smith fixed October 21 as the date for passing sentence in the event a new trial is denied. Bond in the sum of $25,000, furnished last June, will stand and in the meantime Mrs. Kaufman will be at liberty. The girl died in a hospital from injuries which the state charged were inflicted by Mrs. Kaufman.

SECRETARY TAFT AND PRESIDENCY.

You Just Let That Question Mark
Stand," He Says.

Leavenworth, Kan., June 20.—When Wm. Taft, secretary of war, arrived here this morning has attention was called by an Associated Press correspondent to a story printed in the Kansas City papers quoting the Washington Times to the effect that the secretary may retire from the presidential race, it being intimated that he is not physically equipped for a long presidential campaign. The story bore this caption:

"Taft not run?"
Secretary Taft declines to discuss the subject and dismisses the matter by saying laughingly:
"You must let that question mark stand."

Momer had just smitten his blooming lyre and burst into tears. "What's the matter, dear?" asked Mrs. Homer sympathetically. "I have just realized," he sobbed, "how puny I must seem alongside of Theodore Roosevelt when it comes to smiting lyres." Wherupon, to ease his soul in forgetfulness, he chortled out six books of the Odyssey.—The Gadfly.

CLASS STRUGGLE IS RECOGNIZED

Hatred of Employers Ex- pressed by Miner

Claims To Embrace Socialism and Demands His Emancipation
From Slavery.

MAY CAUSE SPLIT IN MEETING

Denver, June 21.—The convention of the Western Federation of Miners spent the entire forenoon discussing the proposed new preamble to the federation's constitution, which commits the organization to socialism. The debate was very spirited at times. No action on the preamble was taken. The proposed preamble in part is:

"We hold there is a class struggle in society and that this struggle is caused by economic conditions; the producer is exploited by the wealth he produces; the class struggle will continue until the producer is recognized as the sole master of the product; the working class must achieve its own emancipation and the industrial union of all useful workers is the surest and wisest method of attaining this end."

"Therefore, we, wage slaves employed in and among mines, mills and smelters of the United States and Canada, have associated in the Western Federation of Miners, the mining department of industrial workers of the world."

Percy Rawling, of Goldfield, Nev., leader of the radicals, who control the convention, said in a speech there can be no friendly relations between employer and employee because there never can be friendly relations between any thief and the man he robs. He advocated discarding the present preamble, and said he wanted to go on record as an enemy of all employers of labor. This was greeted with great applause.

The conservative element predicted a revolt in the negotiation, if the new preamble should be adopted. Even if it received a majority on the referendum vote, it was declared, a large number of members will refuse to accept it and a split in the order will follow.

Remarkable Rescue.
That the truth is stranger than fiction, has once more been demonstrated in the little town of Fedora, Tenn., the residence of C. V. Pepper. He writes: "I was in bed, entirely disabled with hemorrhages of the lungs and throat. Doctors failed to help me, and all hope had fled when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. Then instant relief came. The coughing soon ceased; the bleeding diminished rapidly, and in three weeks I was able to go to work." Guaranteed for coughs and colds 5c. and $1.00, at all druggists. The KING of DIAMONDS.

By Louis Tracy.

Author of "Wings of the Morning," "The Pillar of Light," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905. BY EDWARD J. CLODE.

The man, in spite of his own great lack of composure, saw the fleeting glimpse of spirituality in the boy's eyes. Puzzled and disturbed though he was, he made another violent effort to pull his shattered nerves into order.

"There is no need to talk all day," he said doggedly. "Now I am going to tell you something you don't know. If your host is justified—if you really own as many diamonds and as good ones as you say you own—there must be a great deal of discretion exercised in putting them on the market. Diamonds are valuable only because they are rare. There is a limit to their possible purchasers. If the diamond mines of the world were to pour all their resources forthwith into the lap of the public there would be such a stamp that prices would drop 50, 60, even 80 per cent. Do you follow me?"

"Yes," nodded Phillip. "A week earlier he would have said, 'Yes, sir,' but his soul was bitter yet against Isaacstein.

"Very well. It may take me months, years, to realize your collection. To do properly I must have some idea of its magnitude. If there are exceptionally large stones among it, they will be dealt with separately. They may rival or eclipse the few historical diamonds of the world, but their worth can only be measured by the readiness of some fool to pay hundreds of thousands for them. See?"

"Yes," nodded Phillip again. His sententiousness brought the man to the point.

"Therefore you must take me into your confidence. What quantity of stones do you possess and what are their sizes? I must know."

Isaacstein, cooler now, pursed his lips and pressed his thumbs together until they appeared to be in danger of dislocation. It was his favorite attitude when engaged in a deal. It signified that he had cornered his victim. Phillip, appealed to in this strictly commercial way, could not fail to see it was to his own interest to tell his chosen expert the exact facts and nothing but the facts.

The boy, singularly unflurried in tone and manner, hazarded an inquiry. "What amount of ordinary diamonds—in their money value, I mean—can you dispose of readily in the course of a year, Mr. Isaacstein?"

"Oh, $20,000 or $30,000 worth. It is a matter largely dependent on the condition of trade generally. But that may be regarded as a minimum."

"And the bigger stones, worth many thousands each?"

"It is impossible to say. Taking them in the lump at values varying from a thousand each to fancy figures, perhaps $50,000 worth."

"It would be safe to reckon on a quarter of a million a year, all told?"

"Quite safe."

"Then, Mr. Isaacstein, I will supply you with diamonds of that value every year for many years."

The man relaxed the pressure on his thumbs. Indeed, he passed a tremulous hand across his forehead. He was beaten again, and he knew it—worsted by a gutter sulp in a war of wits.

The contest had one excellent effect. It steepled all further efforts on Isaacstein's part to wrest Phillip's secret from him. Thereafter he asked for and obtained such diamonds as he needed and resolutely forsook himself the luxury of questioning or probing the extent of his juvenile patron's resources.

But there was a long pause before he found his tongue again. His voice had lost its aggressiveness when he said:

"In the poker room I valued the diamonds you produced at $50,000. This does not necessarily follow that I am prepared to give such a sum for them at this moment. I might do so as a speculation, but I take it you do not want me to figure in that capacity. It will be better for you, safer for me, if I become your agent. I will take your stones to Amsterdam, have them cut sufficiently to enable dealers to assess their true worth and sell them to the best advantage. My charge will be 10 per cent and I pay all expenses. Today I will give you $50. Tomorrow I will take you to a bank and place five thousand to your credit. Meanwhile I will give you a receipt for thirty stones, weighing in the rough so many carats, and you or any one you may appoint can see the sale vouchers subsequently when I will hand you the balance after deducting $5,000 and my 10 per cent. The total price may exceed fifty thousand or it may be less, but I do not think it will be far out in my estimate. Are you agreeable?"

Some inner monitor told Phillip that the man was talking on sound business lines. There was a ring of sincerity in his voice. Apparently he had thrust temptation aside and was firmly resolved to be content with his 10 per cent.

And this might well be. Twenty-five thousand pounds a year earned by a few journeys to the continent—a few haggling interviews in the Hutton Garden office! What a gold mine! Moreover, he would be the head man in the trade. He was that now, in some respects, but under the new conditions none could gainsay his place at the top. Even the magnates of Kimberley would be staggered by this new source of supply. What did it matter if the boy kept to his rags and amazed the world so long as the diamonds were forthcoming? It was no silk hatted gentleman who first stumbled across the dia-

A Bold Step.

To overcome the well-grounded and sensible objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published a broad and open to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus has taken his numerous visitors and patients into his full confidence. There has been removed all medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits, and indeed the Secrets of Known Composition.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of these well-known medicinal discoveries, famous medicines for both stomach and liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it, in large and prominent letters, the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing the greatest possible benefit and even incurable diseases in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postcard or by letter, or the address of the nearest drugstore, and the name of the medicine.

It will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral agents or any other ingredients, except that they are made from native, medicinal roots of great value, also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in the medicine are of Indian origin.

DEMAND EXCEEDS SUPPLY OF BEEF

Secretary Wilson Gives Rational Reason for Rise

More People Eat Beef and Proportionately Fewer Are Engaged in Producing.

STATISTICS TO PROVE VIEW

Washington, June 21.—That the recent rise in the price of beef is not attributable to the beef trust, can be accounted for on rational grounds by natural conditions, is the opinion of Mr. Wilson, secretary of agriculture. He said that, in spite of the howl against the beef trust and the manner in which it has been held responsible for present conditions in the meat trade, prices are not controlled at Chicago.

In explaining conditions relative to the trade, Mr. Wilson remarked that "the day laborer in the sewer-trench dines more sumptuously than ever did Queen Elizabeth in her days of greatest power. Think it over."

The trouble, according to Mr. Wilson, is that the demand is exceeding the supply. It is no longer profitable for the small farmer to go into the cattle-raising business. The great industrial centers have demanded laborers and have turned to the farm to get them. They have thus robbed the farmer of his laborer and increased the cost of his hire.

The production of beef, he says, has not kept up with the natural increase in population, not to mention the fact that the increase in beef eating has been far in excess of the proportionate increase in population.

Laborer Wants More Meat.

In the past, the artisan and the laborer was content to have meat not more than once each day, and it was usually stewing meat or boiling meat. Before that he was content with meat two or three times a week. Now there are few laborers, under the present sense of pay in this country, who do not demand meat twice a day, and there are a surprisingly large number who want it with every meal. They are not content with the cheaper grades either, but insist upon chops and steaks and the choicest meats.

Mr. Wilson points to the fact that immigration to this country has now reached a million persons a year. Little of this finds employment in callings which contributes to the increase of beef production, but rather to-beef consumption. An informal inquiry by officers of the department lead to the discovery that, within three or four weeks after coming to this country, immigrants who could name the days, as holidays; in each month, when they ate meat abroad, were demanding and securing meat with two meals every day.

Past Amount Exported.

Again the secretary believes that the fact that last year we found such a profitable market abroad, that we were able to export meat products to the amount of $222,000,000 has been lost sight of. In its effect upon the price of beef in this country.

The possibilities of grazing and keeping beef cattle under economical conditions in the west, are growing constantly more and more restricted. In short, the secretary of agriculture, while not attempting to condone or excuse some of the deplorable practices of the beef trust, does think, at this time, that the advance in the price of beef now so generally commented upon, is due to the conditions he points out and not to the machinations of any monopoly or corporation.

FOURTH OF JULY BASEBALL GAME

Marion, Ill., Team Will Meet
Independents

Manager Hollan Is Picking Up Good Material in Tryout With Calro

CULLEYS AND THE PEARLS

The John Hollan Independent baseball team will play the crack Marion, Ill., independent team in Paducah July 4, and Hollan is reinforcing with the best players possible to secure. He will meet the Calro Rhys here Sunday and see what there is in several players recently signed, and from the "try outs" will be able to select the best of the new material.

After an absence of three years of W. A. Harley, considered during the season the best first sacker in the Katty league the season Paducah won the pennant, wishes to come back to the reservation, and has written Manager John Hollan to see if he can be used here. Harley is from Dayton, O., and not only is a crack steamer and first sacker, but a good looking man as many lady fans will testify. Hollan believes that Harley does not understand the situation, but will write him terms. Harley is playing on a crack Ohio independent team and is in good form.

Nashville wants to play Paducah again, and writes that the reason the team failed to show up here last Sunday was, that no definite arrangements were understood to exist as to the gate receipts. The team wants $75 guaranteed it to pay expenses. Hollan will break even or play fair enough with the foreigners, but is not giving away gold dollars for 50 cents, he says.

Culleys vs Pearls.

The Pearls and Culleys will play again Sunday afternoon at the Union depot grounds. The pitchers are Dunbar for Pearls and Gallingher for the Culleys.

WALLACE PARK

Offers an Interesting Attraction for Next Week.

The public of today is clamoring for something new in the way of amusement, something out of the ordinary, something unexplainable. Hypnotists have ceased to mystify and mind readers have passed unnoticed, because the public has solved to its satisfaction the problems these things have presented.

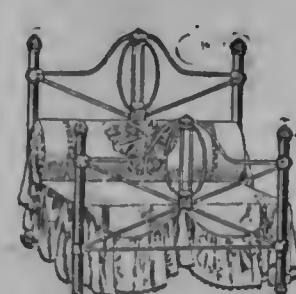

But now comes Mario Rolfson, a native of Norway, frail and slight, weighing scarcely 110 pounds, who possesses some new and unknown power, the like of which has never been recorded; who can defy the unchanging laws of gravitation in a hundred different ways.

Miss Rolfson has given demonstrations of her wonderful and unknown power on every quarter of the globe, appearing before nearly all of the crowned heads of the world—and before the leading doctors and scientific men in every city where she has appeared.

Miss Rolfson will be seen at the Wallace park theater all next week.

Two Ships to Japan's One. The Japanese are a sensitive, proud and warlike people. "Look cross-eyed at them, an' they're into ye'er hair," remarks Mr. Dooley. Their natural disposition to feel insult keenly and resent it quickly is increased by the consciousness of recent victory over the Caucasian race of five feet ten. If we avoid war with them for the next ten years, it will be because we shall have treated them with an excess of studied courtesy never practiced toward any other nation, or have maintained a navy so obviously superior that they fear to fight us. Are we likely to escape by the former method? Is the San Francisco stevedore, on a Saturday night spree, collectively so potential of international insult, likely to learn the discriminating wisdom of the Sage of Archey Road: "Ye can bump any foreigners ye meet but a Jap; don't touch him; he's a live wire." Will drunken Dennis Kearney, lurching down Mission street pay-day night, check a belligerent fist to save gray hairs for Mr. Root? Hardly. Whatever respect may be practiced by the more enlightened and responsible, the feeling of the street crowd which makes international complications will be that of the Philippine army poet, when Governor Taft was preaching consideration and duty toward "our little brown brother." "He may be a brother of William H. Taft, but he ain't no brother of mine."

A Japanese general, wearing all suitor for live wires on the Pacific ocean is two ships to Japan's one.—From Collier's for, June 22, 1907.

"We have left undone the thin we should have done," acknowledged the fair worshiper. "It's all right, dear," whispers a motherly soul in the new back of her. "It's no undone any more. I reached over and hooked it while you was standing up."—St. Louis Republic.
